Term 4, Week 4 October 30th 2020

Reflection

When I visited America 2 years ago I went to the Cathedral of Our Lady of the Angels in Los Angeles. This is a modern cathedral and unlike any I had visited before. Amongst many beautiful features, one of the most striking were the enormous tapestries hanging in the cathedral. The 25 adorning the north and south walls are called the Communion of Saints and between them they depict 135 Saints all looking towards the sanctuary and the celebration of the Eucharist. These images are not the stylised ones often depicted, but look just like ordinary people - a deliberate act of the artist. (St Catherine of Siena is depicted in the middle of this tapestry) Amongst the 135 Saints are 12 untitled children and adults representing the hope for Saints in the future and also the Saints already walking amongst us - a lovely thought to contemplate at any time but especially now at this time and as we celebrate All Saints Day and All Souls Day this weekend.

Dear Parents & Guardians,

This week our Year 3 and some Year 4 students made their First Reconciliation. They had prepared for this in Term 1 but until now have been unable to receive this Sacrament. Unfortunately we were unable to have family members with the children at this time but I am sure that they all went home and retold in great detail their very special day. Congratulations to the following children.

This week we celebrated the wonder and joy of books with our Book Week activities. While we can now enjoy books in many forms from screen to digital I must say that one of my favourite ways to relax is feet up holding and enjoying a good book. Even though we could not have our usual parade or visitors on the day, the joy and fun of guessing costumes and the engagement of the children in these stories was a delight. We have shared some images and activities throughout the week on Seesaw so I hope that you have all been able to view from afar some of the activities from this week.

Take care everyone and God bless

Literacy News

Celebrating learning

We have had an amazing 3 weeks of learning based around the books short listed for Book Week awards as well as other texts chosen by teachers for the students to engage with. The students have been writing, reading, as well as drawing, painting and creating various art based responses. Some of the responses have been displayed around the school. Wow! Our school looks amazing. Some budding artists, writers, and illustrators are in the making. So, because at the moment we cannot have anyone come into the school, here is a small snapshot to be enjoyed and celebrated at home.

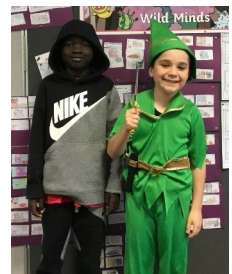

Thank you for your enthusiasm teachers and students. 😊
